ANNUAL REPORT

FACT DIGEST—

The Cleveland Society for the Blind

Rate of Referral on Upward Trend

Research and experience have led to great advances in working with visually impaired people. With the development of more effective methods of teaching and rehabilitation, the challenge of serving blindness continues to broaden. The Society maintains an adaptable and flexible service program. It adjusts or adds new services whenever its community functions can be strengthened. Unchanging, however, is its very reason for existence:

to help those handicapped by blindness achieve the fullest possible development and utilization of their capacities . . . and the greatest integration into the social, cultural and economic life of the community.

The Cleveland Society for the Blind, founded in 1906, is a non-profit, private voluntary agency. It is governed by a distinguished board of trustees, who are recognized leaders in the community, and dedicated to furthering the scope and quality of agency services.

The number of referrals to the Society has been increasing at the rate of 10 per cent every year for the past 10 years. Referrals are increasing because of the lengthening longevity of our population. Almost 3,000 clients are registered for agency service.

Services requiring coordination with the federal and state government are bounded by the definition of legal blindness. A gray area in the field of visual handicap is a group of persons—estimated to number several thousand in the Cleveland area—who are not eligible for normal blind services. This group's visual range is above the 10% legal blindness maximum. Persons in this category cannot read newsprint with correction in the better eye. They are, therefore, nearly as handicapped as those within the legal definition of blindness. During the past year the Society has provided some service to these persons who are "functionally blind." The agency will attempt to expand its effort—within budgetary limitations—to assist functionally blind people in the community.

The President's Message

As you look over this annual report, you will see the diversity and complexity of the Society's services to visually handicapped people in Greater Cleveland. To provide a better setting for these services, the past year has seen the translation into blueprints of many years of planning for a rehabilitation center designed to provide the latest resources for helping children and adults adjust to blindness and live a useful, active life. The new center will also provide space for an expanded prevention of blindness program in the community.

The year ahead will see the construction of the building itself at the corner of East 101st Street and Chester Avenue. The efforts, talents, and generosity of many friends of the Society and a federal Hill-Burton grant are making this possible. Our dedicated director and his able staff are constantly striving to improve the services of the Society, and it is indeed a privilege to work with them, with the fine people the Society serves, and with our loyal Board members, committee members and other volunteers.

Mrs. Clark E. Bruner
President

To Members of the Board of Trustees and Corporation:

We are pleased to submit this report for the year 1963, which reflects the continuous development of activities and opportunities afforded visually handicapped persons of the Greater Cleveland community.

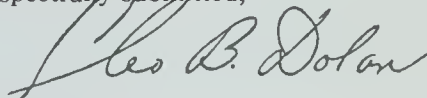

This past year has been one of review in all areas, since the patterns of the past are changing. The age-old barriers which have prevented the employment of blind persons are being shattered by new techniques, new training methods and new concepts concerning blindness.

To this end we have attempted to develop our best and most dedicated efforts. But like any expanding organization, we have experienced the normal growing challenges, which have required evaluation and thoughtful planning for the future. In some areas of our work we have succeeded more notably than others. Because of these, we recognize the challenging new possibilities for strengthening many phases of the Society's services, including greater effort in saving sight.

We could not present this report without comment on the loyalty, perseverance and hard work of the members of the Board of Trustees, volunteers, staff and numerous interested persons who have made such noble contributions to the forward progress of the Society.

We look forward to 1964 with confidence that the Society will fulfill, in even greater measure, the community's expectation of us.

Respectfully submitted,

Cleo B. Dolan
Executive Director

HIGHLIGHTS OF 1963

- Top news announcement is the start of construction of a new building. Work on the new Rehabilitation Center (East 101st Street and Chester Avenue) is expected to begin in the spring of 1964.

- The 1,000th talking book machine was installed in a home in the agency's five county distribution area.

- The Industrial Division moved ahead with its Store-Rack Program. Skilcraft products are successfully meeting competition in chain supermarkets, independent food and department stores.

- The Camera Guild of Cleveland volunteered to assist the Society's Public Education Program in the development of slide presentations and agency activity photography.

- Food Service Division adds three new locations.

- Optimist Club celebrates 50th anniversary in banquet meeting at the Social Service Center. A spry sprinkling of charter members attended.

- Veteran caseworker Carrie Turner received the Distinguished Service Award from the United Appeal of Greater Cleveland.

- The American Foundation for the Blind named J. Kenneth Cozier, vice president of the Society, to serve in the important post of Commissioner on its Standards and Accreditations Board.

- A closed-in porch added to main lodge at Highbrook.

SOCIAL SERVICES

Volunteers

The personal relationship which volunteers establish is a stable and meaningful experience for blind clients. A number of clubs under the sponsorship of volunteer committees have been very successful over the years. The club program enables blind members to meet with and enjoy the companionship of friends. The clubs offer a wide variety of social diversion for visually handicapped persons. Without volunteer transportation service for scheduled get-togethers, a large number of clients would be permanently homebound. Society volunteers perform an invaluable contribution to the Society's total program.

In the past year a volunteer orientation program was implemented. Entertaining skits highlighted problems often encountered by volunteers in their contact with blind clients. A feature of the orientation called for volunteers to eat while blindfolded. This experience provided volunteers with deeper insight into one of the many problems blind persons cope with daily. Two volunteer orientation programs will be scheduled next year.

Volunteer Orientation

Talking Book Repair

Talking Book Program

The placement of a talking book machine is always an achievement. Why? Because it enables blind persons to self-inform, self-entertain, and self-educate—independently. Close to the end of the year, the 1,000th talking book machine was installed in a home in the agency's five county distribution area . . . a notable milestone in this rapidly growing program.

The Kingsbury Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America repair talking book machines on a voluntary basis. The Pioneers' generosity in lending their special talents to keeping machines functional, enables blind users to read with little or no disruption when machines break down.

Almost every variety of entertainment, educational and news material is immediately available on talking records. This program is of inestimable value to visually handicapped people.

Recess For Rehabilitation Class

Rehabilitation Center

What is a rehabilitation center? At the Society, it is a combination of drill presses, kitchen appliances, power grinder, relief map of downtown Cleveland, jig saw, furnished model room, power sewing machine, ceramic kiln and many other things.

This equipment is used to start clients on the road to independence. Here capability and aptitude can be evaluated. The degree of personal adjustment achieved by individuals is measured.

The Center's services are many and complex. A professional staff strives to help clients attain the goals of vocational and social independence.

Cooking Instructions

Decorating Class

Volunteers at Work

Casework Program

The caseworkers introduce the client to the agency, and play a key role in determining his service requirements. Following this, they formulate a program tailored to best help each individual. An important part of the caseworker's job is assisting families of clients in making their adjustment to blindness. Caseworkers processed 454 new and reopened cases.

Home Teaching

In the course of working with a blind person, the home teacher provides such services as home orientation, telephone dialing, threading both hand and machine needles, tips which will be helpful in the kitchen, hints about cooking, and methods of doing general housework.

The home teacher also seeks to aid the blind person by giving him a means of communicating. This is accomplished by teaching Braille reading and writing, typing, and the use of the script writing board for longhand writing. The number of lessons given to clients totaled 538.

Deaf Blind Group

Children's Services

Until this year, educational opportunity was not available locally for retarded blind children. The Society was an active participant in a community attempt to open school doors for these multiple-handicapped youngsters. Several private-schools accepted mentally retarded blind children in 1963. Hopefully, progress will continue in this area.

Early experimentation with integrating blind children with sighted has proven fruitful—so much so, that all future agency children's programing will be integrated to whatever extent possible. Who and where are the blind children in the greater United Appeal area? What are their needs? Are these needs being met? The answers to these questions are being obtained through a continuing survey—a cooperative effort of Ohio Division of Services for the Blind, the Welfare Federation of Cleveland and the Society.

Mobility Instruction

Some blind individuals get in and out of automobiles with more grace than sighted person. And move about in traffic areas with confidence. With skilled techniques they make a white cane and a highly developed sense of hearing serve as a substitute for sight.

The Society's course in Mobility Instruction covers much more than cane techniques. The training includes such phases as: developing a person's ability to turn right, left and about; finding dropped objects; taking direction from stationary objects; following a wall-line; posture; and other vital skills a blind person needs to acquire in order to move about independently indoors and outdoors.

Group Service

A Cleveland Indians Baseball Day, newly organized conversation and music classes, parties and dances on holidays—in between, too—kept a lot of blind children and adults socially busy. Thanks to the energy and ingenuity of Society volunteers, scheduled events dotted the calendar all year.

Future group activity planning is placing stress on special interest phases. It is anticipated some of the categories will be: music study, ham radio, drama, dance instruction, and any other worthwhile educational or recreational program in which clients express a desire for participation opportunities.

Braille Teaching

Mobility Training—Car Entry

Learning Sewing Skill

Highbrook Lodge

A record number, 366 campers, made Highbrook Lodge the scene of much pleasure and excitement. The year marked a large increase in new campers—60% over the previous year.

Highbrook was overflowing with children and teenagers during two sessions. The Sports Car Rally, sponsored by Ecurie de Sport—Painesville Sports Car Club, again provided thrills for young campers who acted as navigators during the rally.

New events included an all-day children's Halloween party in October, and a Thanksgiving outing for adults in November. Both 'off-season' parties were highly successful . . . and may be regarded as a significant step toward expanded use of camp facilities.

The porch, an addition to the main lodge, was the site of many camper activities. Whether they were participating in a hootenanny or just plain 'sitting and rocking', so popular was the porch that campers and staff wondered how they were able to do without it in the past.

Public Education Service

The Cleveland Society for the Blind Public Education Service interprets agency policy, philosophy, news, needs, and information about blindness to the community. It works with media, develops literature, and makes direct contact with many service, church, club and civic organizations in meetings and facility tours. Increased emphasis is being placed on a sight conservation program and in the attempt to overcome age-old stereotyped opinions about blindness.

Reading Aids

Hand Magnifiers

Distance Aids

Low Vision Clinic

The Low Vision Clinic is now in its fifth year of operation at the Cleveland Society for the Blind. It is recognized by the community as a vital part of our agency program. With the termination in 1963 of the research project sponsored by the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration, this program is now fully supported by the Society.

Of the 51 clients who were seen by the ophthalmological consultant in 1963, 47, or 92 percent, received some benefit from optical aids. For these 47 individuals, 115 aids were prescribed. The clinic social worker, who is responsible for the preparation, evaluation, testing and follow-up services for the client, conducted 354 clinic sessions throughout the year.

Contract Work

Bingham Contract Dept.

Store Merchandizer

Cane Shop

INDUSTRIAL DIVISION

The Industrial Division provides opportunities for blind persons who either need or desire permanent, remunerative employment or require temporary employment until they are ready to find placement in competitive industry.

Review of 1963 Operations

Sales in 1963 hit an all-time high, for the second straight year, of $1,114,655 compared with a 1962 total of $1,107,373. Of the total of $1,114,655 during 1963, $492,160 represented sales of Sanitation Kits to the U. S. Office of Civil Defense, compared with $608,240 of such sales during the year 1962. All other sales, which represent "normal" business, amounted to $622,495 during 1963 compared to $499,133 during 1962—an increase of 24.7%. The most outstanding growth of "normal" business took place in three different sales categories:

Direct Sales increased from $93,928 in 1962 to $111,605 in 1963—an increase of 19%.

Contract Sales increased from $48,784 in 1962 to $95,742 in 1963—an increase of 96%.

Store Sales increased from $22,512 in 1962 to $73,693 in 1963—an increase of 227%.

The Store Sales Program made a significant breakthrough during the last half of 1963 when both the Heinen and Pick-N-Pay Stores were secured as accounts. In addition, a number of other food stores and department stores began to use our rack service. By the end of 1963, a total of approximately 117 racks had been installed by the Society compared with approximately 22 racks at the end of 1962.

Wages paid to blind workers reached a total of $158,628.15 compared to $125,150.73—an increase of $33,477.42 or 26.7%.

EARNINGS OF BLIND EMPLOYEES COMPARED WITH CAPITAL INVESTED
Food Service Division (Snack Bars)

Bingham Building

As indicated on chart, every dollar spent on capital invested brings a return of $2.52 in earnings to blind snack bar managers.

Emphasis placed upon improving quality and variety of food served by snack bars resulted in a substantial increase in sales. Total sales for 1963 were approximately $893,173 . . . a rise of $43,000 over 1962.

Despite the rapid growth of automated food dispensing machine service, the Food Division managed to add new locations in 1963. In order to successfully compete with food machine operators, the Division planned new location prospecting strategy. Three new snack bars were launched during the year.

The Food Service Division is constantly striving to improve its method of communications with snack bar managers. No standard method serves current needs—some managers do not have readers readily accessible—some do not read Braille.

In the effort to overcome these problems, the Division developed a pilot tape, designed to illustrate how teaching and training instructions can be tape recorded. Because communications with snack bar managers is a national problem, the pilot tape has been submitted to Washington. It will be studied in the department of the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration. If reviewed favorably, a grant may be issued to the Society for the development of a taped information and instruction program for snack bar managers.
